EFFICIENCY TO AID WAR

General Distribution of Orders Needed to Keep Nation Busy.

The Regional Industrial Commission of the New York metropolitan zone appointed recently by William Fellowes Morgan, at he request of the War Industries Board. met yesterday for the first time at the Bankers Club and discussed plans for organization in this district, which is considered as the most important industrial centre in the country.

Charles A. Otis, head of the resources and conversion section of the War Industries Board, who came from Cleveland for the meeting, outlined the duties of the twenty-four members who form the regional commission in the work they will do to coordinate industry so that highest efficiency will be available to supply war demands.

In explaining the plans of the War Industries Board and that body's ideas for the coordination of industry Mr. Otis said in part:
"It appeared evident with the tre mendous distances in the country that little personal or local touch was being tries for the distribution of work in the country, and that the growing tendency of the supply and purchasing agencies of the Government was naturally to us the larger concerns and increase their

More General Plan Urged.

"This in the beginning was the only thing that could be done and up to a was the wise way, but as sections of the country became crowded and power limited it was most evident that a more general distribution of orders should be recommended to these supply and purchasing departments. It is evident that everything possible must be done to keep the various centres of the country employed so far as it is within

"It is evident that there are many localities in the country where industries have been established for many years and their workmen have been in the same employment and own their own homes, and under these conditions one of the most important dulies of the secion will be the effort to keep such con tions intact so far as possible.
"The aim in general will be to have survey made of the regions not only f plant capacity but personal organization, which means more than the blueprint of the shop.

This can only be done by men in the regions knowing each other and recommending through the resources and conversion section, to be transmitted to Governmental departments, the work that their region is capable of doing ending the distribution of ders and development of resources to the greatest degree.

"Let it be distinctly pointed out that the volunteer organizations of business men in the regions are in no way connected with the Government except as bureaus of information and recom-mendation. Obviously, as they are the sellers and the Government the buyer,

"When the regions are organized they ill recommend the names of three or four men who must give their time, regions as the commissioner of this section. To these men my section will look for information gained from the busi-ness men's organizations. "The endeavor of the Washington end will be to submit, as far as possible, the requirements of the supply and pur-chasing agencies of the Government to the various sections. They will then make recommendations of what they can do, such recommendations to be submitted to the Government for the

"There will be no purchasing by a representative of the Government in a All departments of the Government will remain exactly the same.

"The resources and conversion sec-tion is simply a helpful agency to get in-formation to the Government, obtain it from the Government and do every thing consistent with good business to keep the various regions of the country employed to the fullest extent and equalized in work. "It is obvious that as we progress the Government will be to a great extent the only buyer. Many industries must immediately develop their organization along the line of war requirements or be out of business. To save this very serious situation is the work of the resources and conversion section, and its work is dependent upon the hearty suport of every business man of the coun-freight terminals during the coming winter, requires the full cooperation of the merchants and manufacturers who will profit by it and the formation of all the truckmen and trucking facilities of the druckmen and trucking facilities of the city into a smooth running organization.

Mr. Harlan expressed himself yesterday as gratified with the spirit of cooperation displayed so far by business and truck men, all of those with whom he has been in conference agreeing that the proposed method will facilitate the received so soods by consignees and will receipt of goods by consignees and will defeat the strategy of those who have been accustomed to use railroad cars and terminals as storage points.

Arrangements are being made in the matter of zoning, street routing and registration of trucks. It is planned to try out the store door experiment in that part of Manhattan south of Fifty-ninth street, and if it works out as expected to extend its operation to all boroughs

STRIKES WOMAN AND FLEES.

Man Attacks Mother With Child in Her Arms in Park Mendow.

The police are searching for the as-saliant of Mrs. Clara Raserco, 22, of 440 West Twenty-sixth street, who was bru-tally struck on the head while she was sitting in Central Park meadow yesterday afternoon with her six-month-old baby in her arms.

Other benches near her were filled with people when the man rushed out of a clump of bushes and struck her. Mrs. Raserco was taken to her home by a passing automobile. Her hair lessened the force of the blow. The police have good description of the man, who fled through the shrubbery.

List for Promotions.

A legal fight brought by Miss Mary A. Finnegan, a trained nurse in the Department of Health, against members of the Civil Service Commission to compel them to restore the eligible list for the promotion of supervising nurses was won by her yesterday before Justice Ottinger in Special Term of the Bronx Supreme Court. Miss Finnegan claimed that the ist was arbitrarily cancelled by the commission and that preferential appointments had been given to nurses who had Pormer Bronx Park Commissioner lower ratings on examinations than her obtained leaves for war service will be barred upon their return from advance-ment in the Department of Health. Justice Ottinger in granting a writ of mandamus compelling the Civil Ser-vice Commissioners to certify to the list demanded, said there was no warrant for such procedure on the part of the Com-missioners, and that if promotion lists may be promulgated only to be annulical at the pleasure of the commission, it will be difficult to obtain a desirable class of public servants.

Miss Finnegan's complaint said that when she went to the Commissioners to ask for the restoration of the list she was met with the reply that Mayor Hylan had directed its cancellation. She then saw the Mayoe and he promised to give the nurses a hearing. The promise was not fulfilled, she said.
